Mission Statement

The University of Pittsburgh at Greensburg is a baccalaureate degree-granting unit, providing educational opportunities to both traditional and nontraditional students through curricular and co-curricular experiences that are focused primarily on the arts and sciences and some selected professional or pre-professional programs that are grounded in traditional liberal arts disciplines. As an undergraduate school within the broader University, Pitt-Greensburg faculty places primary emphasis on teaching excellence while maintaining a commitment to scholarship and public service.

Retention of Fall 2011 First-Time, Full-time Freshmen

First-time full-time freshmen in Fall 2011 that returned for their second year (in Fall 2012): 75%

*The data reported for applications are a composite of those who applied directly to Pitt-Greensburg for consideration as well as those who applied to the Pittsburgh campus and are already pre-screened for meeting the Pitt-Greensburg admission criteria and are optioned to the Greensburg campus. About 40 percent of applications in any given year at the Greensburg campus are such pre-screened options and 60 percent are direct applicants.

*The source data for the percentages show here is the National Student Clearinghouse (NSC). The NSC tracks enrollments over a twelve-month period. This contrasts with other data sources wherein rates are calculated and reported according to the fall term census data. Given this timeframe difference, the percentages shown here may vary from those shown in other presentations.
