Psychology

38 credits
Bachelor of Science

Psychology is the scientific study of human behavior and deals with learning and motivation, perception, development and adjustment of human personality, social relations, and methods of research used in analyzing human behavior. Practicum and research experiences are available to qualified students.

Employment:
* Counseling
* Psychotherapy
* Case management
* Mental health services
* Physical health/wellness
* Crisis work
* Art therapy
* Music therapy
* Community relations
* Fund raising
* Grant writing
* Market research
* Behavior Analysis
* Psychological research

Introductory Course Requirement 1 course - 3 credits
PSY 0010 Introduction to Psychology

Core Courses 3 courses - 9 credits
Take three of the following courses:
PSY 0105 Social Psychology
PSY 0160 Psychology of Personality
PSY 0310 Developmental Psychology OR
PSY 0311 Lifespan Development
PSY 0410 Human Cognition
PSY 1205 Abnormal Psychology

Research Courses 2 courses - 8 credits
PSY 0032 Research Methods

One of the following:
PSY 0402 Experimental Learning OR
PSY 0330 Experimental Child Psychology

Electives 5 courses - 15 credits
Students choose five additional Psychology courses. Some courses, such as PSY 1910 - Supervised Field Placement, PSY 1912 - Directed Individual Reading, PSY 1913-Directed Individual Research, and PSY 1972 - Teaching of Psychology, require special permission from the instructor. A maximum of six credits in these four courses may be used for the elective requirement.

Additional Requirement 1 course - 3 credits
After earning 90 credits, all Psychology majors must take PSY 1925 - Senior Thesis, to fulfill the capstone course requirement.

Liberal Arts Courses
Psychology majors must take the following course as part of their General Education Requirements:
STAT 0200 Basic Applied Statistics (4 cr.)