INDIANA UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA, INDIANA, PA <http://www.iup.edu/admissions/graduate/>

Each year, over 2,000 graduate students from 37 countries study at Indiana University of Pennsylvania in more than 60 master's and doctoral programs that challenge, shape, and expand their way of thinking. IUP students work side-by-side with professors on stimulating research projects, while learning in classrooms that encourage one-on-one experiences and mentorship. We also offer an abundance of assistantships.

IUP features the greatest number of Fulbright faculty scholars in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education and is one of only four public doctoral/research universities in Pennsylvania. As a result, we place a high priority on the quality of research you can produce. Students have access to our state-of-the-art facilities and the latest technology, as well as resources like our Applied Research Lab. You'll even have opportunities to present your research through conferences, symposia, exhibits, and colloquiums like our Graduate Scholars Forum.

While over 1,000 graduate students attend classes on our main campus each year, you can pursue your degree at one of our other sites: Monroeville, Northpointe, Johnstown, Harrisburg. Alternatively, take advantage of the various online and hybrid (partially online) capabilities offered by programs designed specifically for working professionals, using technology like our "virtual classroom" experience.
