Humanities

undergraduate program

Humanities Area Concentration

39 credits
Bachelor of Arts

The Humanities Area option allows students to meet their individual education needs by developing a major based on courses from several departments within the Humanities Division.

The selection of courses should reflect a theme or program that is developed in consultation with an Academic Advisor.

Choose from three of the following subject areas: Classics, Communication, English Literature, Creative & Professional Writing, History of Art and Architecture, Humanities, Philosophy, Spanish, and Visual and Performing Arts: Music, Theatre, History of Art & Architecture.

Core Requirements

12 courses - 36 credits

To satisfy the requirements for a Humanities Area major, students select one department in which they take five to six courses (15-18 credits) and two other departments in which they take three to four courses (9-12 credits) each for a minimum total of 36 credits. An example of a program of studies for a student who chooses Communication as the major department and English Literature and History of Art and Architecture as the minor departments is shown below.

Other Required Course

As part of the General Education requirement, students must take ENGCMP 0030 or an equivalent.

Across the major, at least 18 credits, in addition to the Capstone requirement, must be upper level courses which have prerequisites or are numbered 1000 or higher.

Additional Requirements 1 course - 3 credits

After earning 90 credits, all Humanities Area majors must take one of the capstone courses offered in the major area of concentration to fulfill the capstone course requirement.
