

Come Read with Us!

Westmoreland Reads is a newly formed community program initiated by Pitt-Greensburg, and a collaboration of local non-profits, and the incoming freshman class, who will read the same book Rising Out of Hatred: The Awakening of a Former White Nationalist by Eli Saslow.

Rising Out of Hatred tells the story of Derek Black, godson of KKK grand wizard, David Duke, and son of Don Black, founder of Stormfront, the first and largest hate site on the Internet. Raised at the epicenter of white nationalism and considered a rising star in the white nationalist movement, Derek Black ultimately rejected the ideology he had been raised in and confronted the damage he had done.

The YWCA invites you to be part of the group discussion about the reading of Rising Out of Hatred. This event will be held at the YWCA, 424 N. Main Street, Greensburg, Thursday, September 8, 15, 22, and 29 – Choose between afternoon or evening session (12:30 – 2:00 pm or 6:45 pm to 8:15 pm.) Registration is required. Books can be purchased thru Amazon or Barnes & Noble store.

The goal of the Westmoreland Reads program is to form formal and informal reading groups throughout Westmoreland County. Participating groups will adopt a common book, which they will then discuss. The 2022 project concludes with an October 13, 2022 presentation at UPG by the author, Eli Saslow.
